

17th Turkish Investment Conference

Energy Roundtable

23 September 2025, Citi Headquarters, 08.30

Minister of Energy and Natural Resources Alparslan Bayraktar,

Dear participants,

Thanks to our Minister for his valuable speeches and their presentations.

Energy sector is one of the critical sectors that we can embark on joint investments with our US friends. The sector is growing thanks to our young and increasing population, our growing economy and changing paradigms in energy sector due to shift to renewable energy projects. In addition to these paradigms, Türkiye is becoming a regional energy hub thanks to our geographical position located at the crossroad of three continents.

Turkish private sector increased its investments in renewable energy sector recently. Wind and solar panel investments, hybrid projects with battery storage, large scale solar projects for self-consumption and ongoing investments in upgrading the grid and smart systems provide new opportunities and new business areas for investors in energy and technology sectors.

As private sector business community, we see huge interest from international investors. And I ask US companies to urge to reap the benefits of growing energy market in Trkiye.

I'll finish with my sincere thanks to all funds and financial institutions as well as our sponsors and send my gratitude to all.
